Chain Blasts Kill 27 Americans In Viet Nam; 103 Hurt

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Demolition experts, working with special time charges, today blew up four 500-pound bombs strewn across the Bien Hoa Air Base by the chain explosion Sunday that left 27 Americans dead or missing and 103 wounded.

Another 500-pound bomb buried in the smoldering wreckage of some of the 40 planes destroyed or damaged went off by itself. No one was hurt, but hazards remained from the rest of 10 such bombs, rated as unstable.

Thailand, said the bombs were fitted with detonation devices that could not be disarmed, and delayed action fuses might set them off any time within the next few days.

"We have evacuated all personnel from the area until our disposal units decide what to do with the bombs," Moore said. A U.S. spokesman said five Americans killed in the blasts Sunday have been identified and 22 others are listed as missing or presumed dead. He said 103 Americans — 29 Army men and 74 Air Force personnel — were injured.

Worse Than Battle

The explosions at the base 12 miles north of Saigon Sunday caused more death, injury and destruction to U.S. forces than any single Communist attack of the war.

Gen. Moore said after a preliminary investigation: "I am satisfied no sabotage was involved. It was an accidental explosion of a bomb on one aircraft which spread to the others."

"The Viet Cong couldn't have done a better job themselves even if they had worked on it all year," said one U.S. Air Force officer.

U.S. officials said the disaster began with the explosion of a bomb that had been loaded aboard a B57 jet bomber for an attack against the Communist guerrillas. Within seconds neighboring planes in the flight, surrounded by crewmen and ordnance men, began exploding and burning.

Mass Of Debris

Napalm bombs, white phosphorus fire bombs and 750-pound bombs all went up. Five minutes after the initial blast, the jet plane ramp was a mass of smoldering debris. Forty planes were destroyed or damaged.

aged, and the control tower was knocked out of operation for several hours.

Later an ammunition dump exploded, but no casualties resulted.

The Air Force sent Lt. Gen. William K. Martin, its inspector general, and a team of experts from Washington to investigate.

In addition to the Americans, at least one Vietnamese was killed. Some sources said the death toll might climb to more than 30 as the wreckage was cleared.

Ten of the planes destroyed were U.S. B57 twin-jet medium bombers, two were propeller-driven A1 Skyraider fighter-bombers, one was a U.S. Navy F8 Crusader jet and two were

Helicopter Is Prize Product

The Escanaba Daily Press learned today that the R. J. Enstrom Corp. F-28 helicopter manufactured at Menominee has been selected as the State Product of the Year.

Michigan Week's public relations deputy director Jim Gooch of Marquette said confirmation of the award selection downstate was expected at a 7 p. m. press conference in Detroit.

The helicopter is being exhibited at a Michigan Week dinner tonight in Detroit and Governor Romney will present the official award at a joint session of the Legislature on Wednesday, at which time the new helicopter will be on display on the Statehouse lawn at Lansing.

Precision Used In N. Viet Nam Bridge Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — On orders from the Pentagon, U.S. bombers have been knocking out single bridge spans — rather than entire bridges — wherever possible in Communist North Viet Nam.

Military officials said this almost surgical precision has accomplished the purpose of disabling the bridges and interrupting traffic across them. At the same time, it has demonstrated to the Communists that the United States can exercise restraint.

Bombing of North Viet Nam, which began Feb. 7, has been in suspension for several days. If and when it is resumed, it is expected that the single-span attack technique will be continued.

Some time ago, it was learned, directives from the Pentagon to U.S. forces operating against North Viet Nam stipulated, among other things, that the operational objective would be one span of a bridge.

Informed sources suggested there was more than a purely military reason behind this instruction — that it fits in with the national policy of strictly controlled punishment designed to prod North Viet Nam into negotiating a settlement of the South Viet Nam war.

Klan Applauds Accused Killers

SANFORD, N.C. (AP) — Collier Wilkins and two other men accused of slaying a Detroit civil-rights worker attracted thousands of persons to Ku Klux Klan rallies during the weekend.

Wilkins, 21, whose murder trial recently ended in a hung jury, signed autographs at the rallies.

A crowd estimated at 6,000 cheered loudly Saturday at Dunn when Alabama attorney Matt Murphy Jr. introduced Wilkins and two others charged in the case, William O. Eaton, 41, and Eugene Thomas, 42.

Some 2,000 greeted the Alabamians with cheers at Sanford Sunday evening.

North Carolina's KKK grand dragon, Robert Jones of Granite Quarry, called the Dunn rally "among our best yet" and said Murphy would be back next weekend for a march and rally at Farmville, another small eastern North Carolina tobacco town.

Murphy and the three men charged in the slaying of Viola Liuzzo the night the Selma-to-Montgomery march ended came to North Carolina as part of a new KKK drive for membership and funds.

Rowdies Jailed At Saugatuck

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Two rural South Haven youths have become the first to feel effects of a crackdown on rowdism at this Lake Michigan summer resort community which long has attracted high school and college student vacationers.

Dennis Szymczak, 19, and Norbert Frazier, 22, were arrested for pulling a flag pole from its concrete foundation at the beach last Sunday. Officers said the 60-foot pole was yanked from its foundation by means of a rope attached to a car.

Szymczak was sentenced by Justice Ervin Kasten to 10 days in jail with an additional 80 days ordered upon failure to pay a total $114.90 in fines and costs plus $50 restitution. Frazier has paid the fine and costs, Allegan County Sheriff's men said, and is scheduled to spend the next three weekends in jail.

Another Child Must Die To Save Lake Orion Baby

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Another child apparently must die if Baby Kathy Leach of Lake Orion, Mich., is to live.

Kathy, year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Leach, is hospitalized here with a potentially fatal liver disease.

When and if another child dies, the liver from the latter's body may be transplanted to Kathy. Doctors say this may be the only way to save Kathy.

The operation never has been performed successfully on humans.

"It's hard wanting to have Kathy home and well again knowing somebody else is going to have to lose his baby," said Kathy's father.

Detroit Police In Gun Battle; 3 Men Killed

DETROIT (AP) — One ex-convict killed another and he and a companion subsequently were wounded fatally in a roaring gun battle with police at a downtown Detroit intersection today.

The gun battle climaxed the pistol slaying of Dennis Wayne Jones, 25, a Detroit-er on parole from Southern Michigan Prison, in the men's rest room of a downtown bar.

Jones' body was dragged through the bar into a car by three companions. An alerted police cruiser, containing four patrolmen, spotted the getaway car and gave chase.

Jimmy Chavis, 23, an American Indian of Detroit, the getaway driver, suffered fatal wounds in gunfire exchange with police.

William Berry, 24, of suburban Taylor Township, released only last month from Southern Michigan Prison, died a few hours after being hit in the head by a police bullet.

A fourth man in the getaway car, Hassan Mozhah, 23, a roommate of Chavis, escaped injury. Jones' was on parole from a breaking and entering sentence. Berry had completed almost four years of a sentence of 2½ to 5 years for breaking and entering when he was released April 2.

Pentagon Goads Peking Into War, Sen. Morse Says

DETROIT (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., warning the United States would be "set back a thousand years in Asia" if it bombed nuclear installations in Red China, said Saturday the Pentagon is trying to goad Peking into war.

Morse made the remarks at a news conference prior to addressing a teach-in Saturday night held in connection with the national teach-in at Washington, D.C.

Morse called at the teach-in for negotiations in the Viet Nam War including the Viet Cong. He also proposed a neutralization of the little Asian nation to be "guaranteed by many nations, especially those of Asia itself."

Ruling Dominican Junta Under Pressure To Resign

A U.S. spokesman said the firing across the Ozama River was the heaviest action recorded for a 24-hour period since U.S. forces arrived.

The American troops control the river's west bank and the rebels the east. The rebels have been using mortars and heavy-caliber weapons against the Americans. The U.S. troops have been firing back with ordinance up to recoilless 106mm antitank weapons.

A high-level White House mission which came from Washington Sunday met with junta president Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras and reportedly pressured the junta to resign. Junta sources said Imbert refused.

Another meeting between Imbert and Undersecretary of State Thomas C. Mann was scheduled today.

Lower Excise Levies Would Start July 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson formally submitted to Congress today his bid to cut excise taxes by nearly $4 billion, and gave assurances he sees no indication that spending for defense of the free world would upset the planned reduction.

The President filled in the blanks in a program he already had announced Saturday. And he said that the recommendations "will accomplish, prudently and responsibly, a major reform of the excise tax structure."

More Next January

The Johnson plan would eliminate some of the existing excise taxes on July 1, with a total slash of $1.75 billion on that date and with a reduction of the same amount effective next Jan. 1.

Beyond that, Johnson is proposing a $464-million slash spread over several years, up to 1970.

Apparently aware of some misgivings over whether the government should make such substantial tax cuts in view of possible increases in military spending in Viet Nam especially, Johnson told Congress:

"In proposing these reductions, I am fully aware of our present and prospective commitments for the defense of the free world. It is impossible to predict precisely what expenditures these may involve in the future. There is, however, no present indication that expenditures will increase to an extent that would make these excise tax reductions inadvisable."

Lower Prices Sighted

"Indeed, our international responsibilities require that we redouble our efforts to assure the continued healthy growth of our economy. Barring some sudden change in the present world situation, I am sure that these excise tax reductions will be a sound and profitable investment in that growth."

And, to insure that the tax reduction make a maximum contribution to price stability and balanced prosperity, Johnson said:

"I call on American business to translate lower excise taxes promptly into lower retail prices for consumers."

Johnson spelled out in more detail his proposals made in a statement Saturday:

On retail taxes — those the buyers pay in the markets and stores — the complete repeal of levies on handbags, luggage, toilet articles, jewelry and furs on July 1.

Complete Repeal

On taxes manufacturers pay before the products reach the dealers — complete repeal on July 1 of those on business machines, sporting goods other than fishing gear, radios, television sets, phonographs and records, musical instruments, cameras, film and other photographic equipment, refrigerators, freezers, air conditioners, electric, gas and oil appliances, fountain and ballpoint pens, mechanical pencils, lighters, matches and playing cards.

Miscellaneous taxes — Repeal at midyear of those on safe deposit boxes, coin-operated amusement devices, bowling alleys and pool tables.

As previously announced, the tax on cars would come down from 10 to 7 per cent July 1 and later on to 5 per cent effective Jan. 1, 1967. There would be an intermediate reduction to 6 per cent on Jan. 1, 1966.

And he made it clear he wanted the cut technically scheduled for July 1 made retroactive in its effect to May 15. But Johnson proposed to retain a 5 per cent tax on passenger cars permanently as an important source of federal revenue.

Highway Budget Up

Effective Jan. 1, of next year, Johnson proposed:

Admission taxes — Complete repeal, including the tax on admissions to certain movies, theaters, concerts, racing and athletic events, cabarets and club dues.

Repeal of manufacturer's taxes on lubricating oil and electric light bulbs, and repeal of the tax on auto parts and accessories.

Floods Strike In South Dakota And South Texas

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains continued today in parts of Texas where flash floods drove hundreds from their homes and caused widespread damage.

Much of the rainfall doused southern Texas since Sunday night. Alice, near Corpus Christi, reported 5.31 inches in 12 hours.

Considerable flooding also was reported in the South Dakota area near Deadwood and Spearfish where heavy rains followed a 34-inch snowfall.

The heavy squall of thunderstorms that triggered the Texas downpours moved into the East and South today. The Weather Bureau warned many areas to expect high winds, thunderstorms and hail.

Thunderstorms were reported early today from southern New England to Texas. New York State Police reported what they described as "a terrific wind-storm" slash through the south-west corner of the state, downing trees and power lines. One trailer home was flipped 200 feet by the winds, police said.

River areas in southern Texas braced for more flooding today as rain continued to fall over most of the state.

Nine inches of rain fell in one burst at Killeen and nearby Ft. Hood reported 7.96 inches. Swollen rivers and creeks in the area forced 125 families from their homes, derailed eight cars of a freight train and swept several automobiles off highways.

Austin, Tex., the largest city affected by the storm, reported two to three feet of water flooded many intersections. Homes and businesses in low-lying areas were swamped.

Two tornadoes were sighted on the ground, near San Antonio and Frisco, but no severe damage was reported.

The South Dakota floods were blamed on heavy rains that fell in the Black Hills Friday. Those rains, combined with the 34-inch snowfall the week before, resulted in heavy runoffs.

National Guardsmen had urged homeowners in the area to evacuate, but most decided to brave the floods.

Les Schuchardt, 40, of Spearfish, had bolstered his home with 65 to 70 tons of concrete in a retaining wall against Spearfish Creek. The swift waters tore down the concrete and swept his home downriver.

Officials placed damage in South Dakota at $2 million.

Flight History Meeting Topic

Walter "Wally" Arntzen, Escanaba architect and pioneer in aviation, will speak to the Delta County Historical Society at its meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce building at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 19.

Arntzen will review the development of flying from the early days when he and other pioneers "barnstormed" county fairs to bring most people their first look at an airplane in the 1920's.

His experiences include mercy missions and rescue flights and in World War II the ferrying of Allied bombers around the world. He continues flying with the piloting of his own plane, sometimes in connection with his architectural firm's business.

Some slide pictures will be used by Arntzen to illustrate a portion of his talk. Clint Dunathan will introduce the speaker.

Charles Folio, Historical Society president, will conduct the meeting, which coincides with "Livelihood Day" of Michigan Week.

The Historical Society Museum at Sand Point will open for the season on Friday afternoon, Michigan Week's Heritage Day.

The program was sponsored by the city of Escanaba in co-operation with the Escanaba Area Public Schools.

Activities at the northside youth center were conducted under the leadership of Roy Hivala and Erwood Slade, members of the local public school staff. The center was well attended in its seven months of operation with as many as 100 youngsters making an appearance on several occasions during the winter.

Botanical Club To Hear Couple

The Michigan Botanical Club, organized in the Upper Peninsula 24 years ago, is coming back to the land of its birth to hold its annual spring campout.

Site of the campout will be Presbytery Point on Lake Michigan from May 29 to 31. Anyone in the Upper Peninsula who is interested in the study of wildflowers is welcome to attend.

During the campout, club members plan to observe the plants of the Van Riper State Park area and of a few locations of special interest near Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Dunathan of Escanaba will present a talk illustrated by colored slides of plants of the Upper Peninsula on Saturday night, May 29.

Thirty-eight members of the club from the Detroit area will travel to the campout by chartered bus and other members will drive here by private car.

The club was organized in 1941 at a meeting of about 50 botanists and naturalists at Trout Lake in Chippewa County. Marjorie Bingham of Cranbrook was the first president.

The club is primarily concerned with the conservation and enjoyment of plants native to Michigan. It recently purchased a tract of land near Ann Arbor known as Horner Woods and presented it to the University of Michigan as a permanent wildlife sanctuary.

Horner Woods is one of the few places where Jeffersonia, or twin-leaf, can be found. The rare plant was named after Thomas Jefferson.

Club members are anxious to have other areas throughout the state similarly set aside for preservation of rare plants in danger of extinction.

Home Rule Dud Shocks League

At the state convention of the League of Women Voters of Michigan held last week in Dearborn, the Escanaba League was given a state award for progress made in the last two years.

Delegates from Escanaba, Mrs. Norman Lindquist and Mrs. Marvin Marshall, report that representatives of the 35 local Leagues in the state voted to continue their study of welfare with emphasis on needs of children.

Mrs. Robert Forch of Dearborn was elected president of the State League.

The convention ended with a plea to all state legislators to amend the so-called "county home rule" bills now on the floor of the House and the Senate. League members expressed shock that the Senate and House committees recommended continuation of the status quo by requiring election of six county officials responsible for county administration.

The convention repeated its long standing belief that Michigan must face up to tax reform. Mrs. Sigmund Nosow, Okemos, legislative vice-president, said "All tax study committees in the past 15 years have recommended an income tax as the only fair way to meet Michigan's needs. League members agree that enactment of a state income tax is the heart of basic tax reform."

Mrs. Lindquist, president of the Escanaba group, reported the successful conclusion of the local League finance drive. She said that the response of the public had been very gratifying.

State Police said the youths were going fishing at Dodge Lake when the station wagon driven by Krumley went out of control on the s-curve on M-94 north of Manistique. The vehicle skidded sideways and apparently rolled over three times, troopers said.

Krumley was ticketed for excessive speed, police said. The vehicle was demolished.

The Bridge Fiasco

Upper Peninsulans who are not familiar with the ways of state government at Lansing are not usually hep to the downstate regard for the Upper Peninsula.

It is friendly but grossly uninformed. The Upper Peninsula's own legislators are a small minority in both houses of the Legislature and their influence has been diminished by the U.P.'s relative indifference to the quality of its representation.

There is no discrimination against the third of Michigan north of Mackinac in matters of school aid and highway mileage, but when some major project for the welfare of the U.P. puts to test the Legislature's regard for this area, the truth tends to ooze out.

The only toll on an intra-state highway in Michigan, for instance, is on the Mackinac Bridge between the two peninsulas of Michigan. State Highway Department traffic figures show that it is a sizeable impediment to tourist traffic into the Upper Peninsula; that many thousands of tourists turn around at Mackinac City instead of journeying on into the Upper Peninsula.

Some of them might turn around anyway, but the barrier of the $3.75 bridge fee per car is a formidable one. The U.P. suffers from it.

Governor Romney, Congressman Clevenger and other government leaders have proposed that the toll be eliminated; that the State of Michigan declare the separation between its two Peninsulas intolerable and make a charge for a freeway bear on all the state instead of only upon the persons who cross the Straits.

The bridge was built in the only way it could have been built in that time—as a toll bridge. Michigan would not assume it as a general obligation—insisted that the users pay for it—although the state does make an annual contribution to maintenance.

The House earlier this year rejected a bill that would have boosted the state gasoline tax by a half cent a gallon to raise $13 million a year and permit cutting of the bridge tolls. Governor Romney proposed that Michigan's automobile license plate tax be increased for 25 years to permit complete abolition of the bridge tolls. The Governor called the bridge an artificial barrier between the Peninsulas that works to the detriment of the Upper Peninsula, a portion of the state which has not shared the general economic growth of Michigan.

The issue is a test of Michigan's value on the unification of the state as well as on the size of the auto license fee or bridge tolls. Any willingness to let the barrier between the two Michigans stand is more apt to be founded upon ignorance of the huge resources of the Upper Peninsula and its potential for economic contribution to the state than upon any sensible economy. Either that or willingness shaped by politicking.

Hopes for action in the current Legislature for Mackinac Bridge refinancing have been dashed by what our State Senator Tom Schweigert (R-Potoskey) calls a "double cross" by Senator William Romano (D-Warren).

Romano, piqued because Governor Romney, a Republican, criticized the Senate State Affairs Committee headed by Romano for paying more attention to dog racing than to more important legislation, let the bridge bill die in his committee before last Friday's deadline.

Romano conceded that he would probably have brought the bridge bill to a vote had Romney not criticized his committee on Friday. One senator said Romano had told him he could have any four bills reported out of the committee in return for dog bill support. Tom Schweigert said he rejected a bid to vote for the dog bill but reluctantly agreed to support a liberalized chiropractors' law in return for Romano's support of the bridge bill.

Romano implied, says the Associated Press, that Democratic caucus had reacted unfavorably to Romano's comments about the committee and that he, Romano, had to make sure no bridge bill vote was taken.

None was taken. The Democrats were going to show the Governor who was in control of the Legislature and if it hurt the Upper Peninsula or Michigan that was just too bad, but party politics had to take precedent over public interest.

The Doctor Says:

Summer Hazards Arrive

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

If your son rebels against summer safety rules it may be because you adopt a "mother knows best" attitude. A better plan is to remind him that his heroes—be they astronauts or baseball stars—prepare every performance for every performance and train themselves to meet emergencies.

Noting that the leading causes of accidents among school-age children are auto accidents, drowning and burns, a group of physicians at the University of Rochester found that children between the ages of 5 and 14 are the ones most likely to violate safety rules.

At that age they are starting to use such adult tools as lawn mowers and sports equipment, yet they resent and tend to ignore adult advice on safety.

Parents should, of course, set a good example in summer safety precautions. Here are some summer hazards and tips for preventing them:

Children and fireworks don't mix. It's a parent's job to see that youngsters don't have access to them.

Use garden chemicals according to directions. Clean insecticide sprayers after each use and store the containers out of reach of children and pets.

If you use a chemical fire starter in your outdoor grill be sure to follow the directions on the container. Don't spray lighter fluid on a fire once it's started. Never use gasoline as a fire starter.

Field Trip

The Chemistry and Biology class of the Trenary High School toured the Cliff Dow Chemical Plant and the Conservation Department at Marquette, Thursday. They were accompanied by Supt. George Hager and Steven Ellis.

JAMES JOHNSON, center left, demonstrates a caliper-type tree measuring device during a field trip session at the Continuous Forest Inventory Conference at Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center. The five-day course included two such field trips. The remainder of the time was spent in the Ford Center's classrooms. Johnson, a forester on the staff of Tech's Ford Forestry Center, is assisted by Richard Smith (in hard hat, back to camera), forester with the Cooperative Forest Inventory Branch, U.S. Forest Service, Milwaukee.

Timber Grows 26 Pct. In Value In 37 Years

ALBERTA — An acre of northern hardwoods timber worth $28 in 1938 is now valued at $229. Why?

Reasons for this 26 per cent annual increase were studied here at Michigan Tech's Ford Forestry Center by 73 industrial forest managers from the United States and Canada.

The group was attending a conference on the applications of modern punch card computing methods and electronic data processing to forest inventory and management control. So unique is the offering it has drawn enrollees from 25 states, including such faraway places as Washington, New Hampshire and Florida.

Participants are observing a "pilot" project developed by Tech research foresters to study an acre of typical Upper Peninsula timber land as it has developed during the last 27 years. Foresters have concentrated on the subject of tree growth by laying out permanent plots in the woods and making periodic measurements of these trees.

From the pilot study, Tech foresters have determined that systematic methods of forest management can mean a steady flow of high value products for local industry, an excellent investment return for the land owner and resulting good employment in the logging and processing industries.

Producing Culls Management which does not adequately consider basic principles of careful tree selection can mean the "high-grading" of good, value-producing trees and the tendency of a forest eventually to consist of cull-wood growth, Tech researchers said.

The year before the Continuous Forest Inventory (CFI) plots were established at Alberta, the area was harvested by "selective" cutting, one of the earliest attempts to practice scientific forest management in the north country. The 27 years of subsequent growth show developments taking place after this cut.

In 1938, some 4,750 board feet was left on the acre after cutting. Using price scales of that time, the value of timber on this acre was $28.26, a substantial figure for a stand that had just been cut. Today the volume has grown to 10,340 board feet. Using today's standard-tree values, its worth has increased about eight times to $229.66.

Even though a portion of the value increase can be attributed to inflation, benefits resulting from good partial cutting in hardwood forest management are evident. Today there are several hundred thousand acres in Upper Michigan which have been cut on some kind of "selective" basis. The growth in volume and value on this land has certainly been better than on lands which were clear cut at the same time.

Although the increase of earnings on Tech's pilot plot were substantial after 27 years, foresters pointed out that the earning rate could have been considerably greater. Of 62 trees of sawtimber size involved in the analysis, only 12 (19 per cent) contributed to the bulk of the value growth. These 12 added two-thirds of the growth, or double that of the other 50 trees.

Extra Earnings Implications for the forest manager and landowner are plain. Tech researchers pointed out. By carefully selecting trees of high future potential, managers of northern hardwood forests can anticipate earnings beyond ordinary expectations.

To illustrate this point, Tech foresters cited various factors which influenced the earning capacity of the pilot plot: 26 of the trees are "new" trees classed as ingrowth; they were too small to count as sawlogs 27 years ago, but now account for about 20 per cent of the total value increase.

During the 27 years, some trees grew as much as six inches in diameter, and the annual rate was 207 board feet, equal to a 4.4 per cent annual volume increase on the original 1938 plot. Though this yearly volume growth rate is not particularly outstanding, Tech researchers said it is adequate for an area with short growing season, such as the Upper Peninsula—especially in view of the fact that the quality growth was so good. Quality increase is another way of saying dollar growth.

For these reasons, they said, it should be apparent to forest managers and land owners that the most important aspect of dollar earnings for a forest stand involves an increase in the value of the timber. Original records of the pilot plot showed a grade for each hardwood tree. Twenty-seven years later, it was found that quality and value for the best trees left 27 years ago had increased substantially.

Overgrown Blemishes Since trees lay on a new growth of wood annually, they overgrow knots and blemishes which lie near the heart. It is this increase in quality, as reflected in the present price structure, which commands a premium price for higher grade hardwoods, and accounts for most of the value increase in these trees.

For example, a sugar maple tree 12.3 inches in diameter in 1938 contained only one log with 33 board feet. Its value was 27 cents. Today the same tree is 18.7 inches in diameter, has three logs with 240 board feet and is valued at $7.61. Its value increase over the 27 intervening years is equal to a return on investment in that tree of almost 100 per cent per year.

Since the northern hardwood hemlock is the most valuable forest type in Upper Michigan and since it occupies the best soils in the area, it is obvious this portion of forest could provide more than its proportionate share of jobs and money to the economy of local communities.

Ford Forestry Center staff members point out that Upper Peninsula residents must turn increasingly to the forest as one of the main sources of economic development in the area. They feel because it is the most important renewable resource that this resource can, if the lot of the timber grower is improved, support a greater share of the Upper Peninsula's economy.

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

At the same time, these semi-detached viewers see no desire in Johnson to remake the world, to push out the frontiers of idealism, to go adventuring into the minds of many world leaders without specific intent. Says one source:

"He doesn't really expect much in this field. He doesn't think any amount of talking will change De Gaulle, or even President Ayub Khan of Pakistan. That's one of the overlooked reasons Ayub's visit was postponed. The President just didn't think he could make a sale."

It is suggested that Johnson, in this regard, is almost the reverse of the late President Kennedy.

The latter came to the White House thinking he could move world mountains. It was only after the disastrous Bay of Pigs, the grinding confrontation in Vienna with Khrushchev, and the Berlin wall, that Kennedy spoke feelingly of the "limitations" on American power and influence.

Even then, some argue, his idealistic notions did not die. He explored the minds of many leaders and leaders-to-be. He thought he would outlive the older leaders, and in a second term take the forefront in new efforts at recasting a troubled world.

Lyndon Johnson is not immune to foreign enthusiasms. He worked up a good deal of spirit over his "Mekong valley project" and general development proposals for Southeast Asia. But to one appraiser this is just a foreign transplant of his domestic enthusiasms. He adds: "The Mekong may simply be the Pedernales enlarged."

Dear Ann Landers: I am married to a man who drowns everything in catsup. Before we were married I noticed Louie's mother always had two bottles on the table and the whole family went for it like crazy. But have you ever heard of catsup on fried eggs? Well that's the way Louie likes 'em. Lots of people use catsup with French fries—but on mashed potatoes, too?

The other night we were at the home of friends and someone mentioned that Louie could never be a blood donor because he probably doesn't have blood—only catsup. This got a big laugh. Then Louie said, "I eat catsup on everything, even ice cream."

With that, the hostess brought him a dish of chocolate ice cream and a bottle of catsup. All eyes were on Louie as he poured about one-third of the bottle on the ice cream. This was after three vodka martinis and I was hoping he would get sick as a dog. But he didn't. I got sick.

This morning I phoned our doctor and asked if so much catsup could injure Louie's health. He said "I check your husband regularly. He is in good condition. Catsup won't hurt him." What do I do now? —SEEING RED

Dear Red: Now accept the fact that Louie is hooked on catsup. Keep plenty on hand and make no mention of his excesses. When he grows up he won't resort to cheap parlor stunts in an effort to capture an audience.

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column you said, "People don't have to be invited to the home of the bereaved after the funeral—they just go."

I wish you hadn't printed that, Ann. In our town we have a couple of nutty women who show up at every funeral whether they know the family or not.

They are the first ones in the church, always getting as close to the family as possible so they can see how everybody is taking it. If there is a service at the cemetery they are right there—rain or shine—standing at the grave, gawking and rubber-necking. If a widow or mother faints, their day is complete. Then they crowd into the car of a relative because they know a free meal is in sight.

Dear Ann Landers: Our school is having a big dance. This is one dance I don't want to miss, no matter what. I'm scared to death some creep will ask me and I'll be stuck. On the other hand, if I turn the creep down I may not get asked by anyone better. Then I'd end up staying home.

As you can see, I am in a terrible spot. Any advice? —UNCERTAIN

Dear Uncertain: I've never bought the idea that any date is better than none. But why should a girl who is A-1, super-deluxe herself worry about getting snatched up by a creep? Why aren't the top guys beating her door down? Clue me. I'm baffled.

Before we were married I noticed Louie's mother always had two bottles on the table and the whole family went for it like crazy. But have you ever heard of catsup on fried eggs? Well that's the way Louie likes 'em. Lots of people use catsup with French fries—but on mashed potatoes, too?

The other night we were at the home of friends and someone mentioned that Louie could never be a blood donor because he probably doesn't have blood—only catsup. This got a big laugh. Then Louie said, "I eat catsup on everything, even ice cream."

With that, the hostess brought him a dish of chocolate ice cream and a bottle of catsup. All eyes were on Louie as he poured about one-third of the bottle on the ice cream. This was after three vodka martinis and I was hoping he would get sick as a dog. But he didn't. I got sick.

This morning I phoned our doctor and asked if so much catsup could injure Louie's health. He said "I check your husband regularly. He is in good condition. Catsup won't hurt him." What do I do now? —SEEING RED

Dear Red: Now accept the fact that Louie is hooked on catsup. Keep plenty on hand and make no mention of his excesses. When he grows up he won't resort to cheap parlor stunts in an effort to capture an audience.

Dear Ann Landers: In a recent column you said, "People don't have to be invited to the home of the bereaved after the funeral—they just go."

I wish you hadn't printed that, Ann. In our town we have a couple of nutty women who show up at every funeral whether they know the family or not.

They are the first ones in the church, always getting as close to the family as possible so they can see how everybody is taking it. If there is a service at the cemetery they are right there—rain or shine—standing at the grave, gawking and rubber-necking. If a widow or mother faints, their day is complete. Then they crowd into the car of a relative because they know a free meal is in sight.

Chevy Chase, Md., has been incorporated since 1914. It is governed by a seven-member board of managers elected at an annual New England-style town meeting. In 1924, a village manager was engaged, making Chevy Chase one of the first communities in the United States to have a city manager form of government.

Dear Ann Landers: Our school is having a big dance. This is one dance I don't want to miss, no matter what. I'm scared to death some creep will ask me and I'll be stuck. On the other hand, if I turn the creep down I may not get asked by anyone better. Then I'd end up staying home.

As you can see, I am in a terrible spot. Any advice? —UNCERTAIN

Dear Uncertain: I've never bought the idea that any date is better than none. But why should a girl who is A-1, super-deluxe herself worry about getting snatched up by a creep? Why aren't the top guys beating her door down? Clue me. I'm baffled.

Tech Officials Favor 4-Year Program At Soo

HOUGHTON (AP)—The president and the board chairman of Michigan Tech in a joint statement have restated the school's plans to establish a four-year program at its Sault Ste. Marie branch.

In a statement issued Thursday, board chairman Charles Moskowitz and president Raymond Smith expressed concern over the possibility that the Soo branch could become a separate, autonomous institution lacking a "full four-year program with adequate state financing."

Moskowitz and Raymond added they welcome the State Board of Education's approval of a third year curriculum in three subjects at the Soo branch. They said they planned to ask the board for funds for a four-year program at the Soo in the 1966-67 budget.

The board has authorized a study of the program. It is scheduled to be completed by Jan. 1.

U.S. Steel Sues For Ship Loss

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The owners of two ships which collided in the Straits of Mackinac with the presumed loss of 10 men filed separate suits Friday in federal courts at Cleveland and Chicago.

The U. S. Steel Corp., owner of the sunken Great Lakes freighter Cedarville, sought $3.5 million damages in its suit against the owners of the Norwegian freighter Toppalsford.

U.S. Steel charged in its suit the Toppalsford violated Great Lakes regulation by speeding in fog, not giving passing signals and violating telephone and telegraph regulations.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in Cleveland.

U.S. Steel was owner of the limestone carrier that sank May 7 after a collision with the Toppalsford in the fog-bound Straits of Mackinac.

The Norwegian-American Line, owners of the Toppalsford, meanwhile petitioned the federal court in Chicago to exonerate the Toppalsford from blame and to limit the line's liability in any civil suit for damages.

The official U.S. Coast Guard inquiry into the disaster recessed here Friday with final testimony by Walter Tulgetzke, first assistant engineer of the Cedarville.

In Friday's testimony, Tulgetzke told the three-member board that standard procedures for operation in fog were being used in the Cedarville's engine room before the collision.

Divers continue to search for three missing men. The bodies of seven Cedarville crew members have been recovered.

Lumber Seller New J.C.C. Head

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Jack D. Skriden, 32, a wholesale lumber salesman from Berkley, is new president of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He was elected here Saturday in business sessions of the state. More than 2,300 delegates and guests attended the session, which moves next year to Lansing.

Elected to serve with Skriden for one year were Jay Sterling, of the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Jaycees, as internal vice-president, and William Taylor of Portland as eternal vice-president.

Skriden, a former state vice-president and a director of the National Jaycees, won out over Mitchell Kehetian of Allen Park.

Land Exchange At Park Feared

Marvin Marshall, land staff forester of the Hiawatha National Forest addressed the Delta County Sportsmen's Club at its clubhouse on Thursday night on the implication of the Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore for the U. S. Forest Service.

Congress will be asked to create a national lakeshore in the Alger County area with more than 60,000 acres in two zones. The recreation zone along 19 miles of Lake Superior shore would embrace more than 20,000 acres of Park Service ownership and the rest would be in a "buffer" zone in which the Park Service would set standards for timber management.

Senator Philip Hart has reported that he does not expect action by Congress on the Pictured Rocks Bill until after it acts on a proposal for the Sleeping Bear National Lakeshore downstate.

The draft bill for Picture Rocks proposes that Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., which would lose most of the timberland purchased to create the new lake shore, be compensated with exchange of timberland from the Hiawatha National Forest.

Marshall said that present laws prevent such trades and that a policy had been developed which permits exchange of federal forest lands, but which insists upon compensating return of other lands to the forest so that it is not diminished.

Marshall said that an exchange of lands would take 35 to 40 per cent of good Forest Service northern hardwood timberlands in the Munising District of the Hiawatha Forest.

Marshall said that most of the hardwoods in the federal forest's hardwoods are back to pole stage now and that if there were a pulp market in the area it could be supplied with thinnings. He said that because the Hiawatha Forest had been set up as a permanent establishment an exchange of lands which took part of it to compensate for lands taken by the U. S. Park Service for the Pictured Rocks Lake Shore would be a step in the wrong direction.

He said that Hiawatha timber, when mature, would be as available to Cleveland Cliffs as to anyone. There is fear, he said, that an exchange would end federal ownership of lands which supply small sawmills in the area.

(Cleveland Cliffs has a new sawmill at Hartho, biggest in the Upper Peninsula, constructed to cut its wood from that area on a sustained yield basis. It has said that the Pictured Rocks Lakeshore proposal would upset — particularly the buffer zone — its sustained yield volume for its Hartho mill.)

Cooking is Fun

SALAMI—WITH EGGS
Like egg salad sandwiches in your home? Add new zest to the filling with chopped salami along with diced celery and mayonnaise enough to moisten.

Roast lamb leftover from that Sunday dinner? Grind the meat fine, combine it with catchup and pickle relish and use it as a savory sandwich spread.

When you are using egg for thickening, you may substitute two yolks for one whole egg. The yolks give a creamier sauce than the whole egg.

If a baking recipe calls for a cup of buttermilk, you can usually substitute regular milk plus lemon juice. To do so add a tablespoon of the lemon juice to a cup and fill with milk.

If you want to use potato starch for thickening instead of flour, use a half tablespoon of the starch for every tablespoon of flour called for.

Make a small hole in each little white onion when you are going to boil this vegetable and the centers may not pop out.

For a pretty vegetable munch or garnish, have pitted ripe olives on hand and insert thin carrot sticks through the holes.

BOOM!

Everything's booming here in Michigan—business, industry and babies. And that means increased needs for telephone service—today and in the years to come.

More and better telephone service to meet these growing needs requires additional telephone cable and lots of new telephone equipment. The equipment has to be housed. This sometimes means new buildings and building additions. In the next three years, Michigan Bell plans to spend over $300 million to keep up with the demands of Michigan's increasing business, industry and population.

Like Michigan, your telephone company is growing. And as it grows, Michigan Bell will continue to bring you telephone service that is high in value—low in cost.

Escanaba Captures Regional Track Crown

Vandeville Wins Both Sprints To Set Pace

The Escanaba Eskymos powered their way to the regional track and field championship in Class A-B here Saturday with six individual first places and a flock of points in all but two of the 15 events.

The Eskymos paced the four-school field with 62 points against 51½ for runnerup Gladstone, 40 for Menominee and 12½ for Holy Name.

The meet was run under threatening skies all afternoon and the threat became a reality in the final event of the day. A flooding downpour of rain drenched the athletes, officials and spectators through the running of the mile relay.

Victory Is Erased

Escanaba's margin of victory, and number of qualifiers for the U.P. finals at Houghton Saturday, would have been larger but for a disqualification in that mile relay event. The Esky unit won in the excellent time of 3:41.8, but was disqualified for an incident on the second leg in which a Menominee runner was caused to break his stride.

Gary Vandeville paced the Eskymos with a pair of sprint victories, winning the 100 in 10.7 and the 220 in 23.8. He edged Gladstone speed merchant Mike Gobert in both events.

Eskymo sophomore Paul Miller set a new school record in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 11½ inches. Ray Anderson, who finished second, held the old record of 5-10¾.

Shot Put Duel

Teammates Bill Sarnowski and Jim Hansen waged another of their patented duels in the shot put, with Sarnowski winning at 54 feet 2¼ inches. Hansen was second at 54-1¼ and Steve Johnson was third, giving the Eskymos 10 points in that event.

The Johnson twins, Jim and Bob, came through with victories in the two sections of the 440 yard dash. Jim hit the tape in 53.9 seconds to beat Joe Dessart of Menominee and Bob won in 54.3 in the second heat.

Gladstone also captured six firsts in an impressive performance, headed by lanky Rick Ebbesen who stepped the high hurdles in 16.2 seconds and the lows in 21.2. His low hurdle time is the best in the Upper Peninsula this season. Eskymo Jim Boyle, a sophomore, was runnerup in both races.

Norkoli Impressive

Other Braves coping first place medals were Carl Norkoli and Bruce Ellison in the two sections of the half mile, Gary Englund in the mile and the 880 yard relay team. Norkoli cruised his 880 in 2:04.7.

Garden New Champ In Class D Track

The Garden Jets dethroned Rapid River as Class D champions of the regional track and field meet here Saturday, capturing six firsts and 62 points to win handily.

The Rockets, competing without the services of senior Doug Moss who was sidelined with a leg injury, finished a distant second with 35 points.

Coach Dave Pelletier's Jets had the balance to go with their individual standouts, grabbing points in 12 of the 15 events on the program.

Garden produced one of two double winners in the meet. Long-legged Don Saxon skinned the high hurdles in 17.5 seconds and the lows in 22.2.

Other Jets capturing firsts were Wilfred LeBresh in the half mile, Lonnie McPhee in the quarter mile and Rod Lucas in the high jump, along with the half mile relay team.

One of the top performances in the meet was turned in by Tom Teeple of Perkins. He ran his competitors into the ground in the mile, winning in 4:44.2 without a challenge. The U.P. record, set by John LaVallee of Garden in 1962, is 4:41.3.

Besides Saxon of Garden, Dick Forslund of Rapid River was the only two-time winner in the meet. He copped the 220 yard dash in 25.1 seconds and the long jump in 18-7¾.

The Rockets had only one other individual winner in Pat Larrabee who took his section of the 440 yard dash in 56.5 seconds.

Detroit Bows Twice To Close Road Trip

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers were back home today with a brand new image and a restoration of confidence.

Almost certainly the "gate" at Briggs Stadium is going to improve, too.

All this comes about from the successful road trip, just concluded, with homer-hitting Willie Horton taking the main bows.

The Tigers' 7-4 road trip, which included a victory string of six straight games behind Horton's tremendous walloping, ended with a doubleheader loss to the Boston Red Sox in Boston Sunday.

But the two defeats didn't hurt too much. Horton wasn't stopped, just slowed a little. He hit three doubles in eight times up. He leads the American League in homers with his total of nine. His batting average is a fat .43.

Golf Comeback For Dick Mayer

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Dick Mayer, who dropped out of sight just months after he became king of golf in 1957, will tell you that it's sometimes a little heartbreaking for a former champion to attempt a comeback.

But the 42-year-old Mayer, who came from the same era of golf that produced such greats as Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson, struck a blow for old age and sentiment Sunday when he chipped in from at least 90 feet out on the 18th hole to win the $100,000 New Orleans Open. He shot a 68 in the final round for a 273 total.

Bruce Devlin and Billy Martindale finished in a tie for second with 274s and pocketed $9,400 each. Both finished with 70s.

Jack Nicklaus, the favorite here, finished Sunday's round with a 69 for a 72-hole total of 275. This left him tied with Jack Cupit and George Knudson for fourth place, which was worth $4,500 to each. Arnold Palmer was well down the list, with a 284 total worth $258.

Mayer, a native of New England who now makes his home at Palm Desert, Calif., was at his prime in 1957. He won the U.S. Open, the $100,000 World Championship of Golf, was named Golfer of the Year and led the nation's money winners with $65,835.

Then, beset by personal problems, Mayer made the short trip to oblivion. By 1960 his name was forgotten.

Mayer played a tournament now and then just to maintain contact with the game, but made his living as a stockbroker, selling insurance, working at his father's automobile agency and ranching.

"I just don't know whether I wanted to go in in 1957," he said. "I had lost all my confidence and really didn't think I wanted to play. I guess you can just say I gave up."

The New Orleans Open was Mayer's sixth tournament of the year and the only one in which he finished high enough in the standings to make expenses. First prize was worth $20,000.

Yesterday's Stars

BATTING — Willie Mays, Giants, lifted his batting average to .408 with his 13th homer, a double and three singles, reaching base seven times in eight appearances as San Francisco swept a doubleheader from Houston 10-5 and 4-3.

PITCHING — Earl Wilson, Red Sox, checked Detroit on four hits in Red Sox' 5-0 first-game victory.

Rough'n Tumble, sire of Flag Raiser, won the 1961 Aanta Anta Derby.

Wilson held Detroit safe in the opener, striking out eight batters and walking only one. The defeat was Wicksham's second against one victory.

Both he and Monbouquette worked hard to control Horton. Neither was fully successful. Willie got one double in the first game and two in the second.

Fielding played a vital role in both games.

Horton figured in a great deal of this.

He was on third with one out in the seventh inning of the first game from his double and a single by Jim Northrup. Wilson looked shaky as rally threatened. Bill Freehan popped out and Sox third baseman Dalton Jones risked broken bones with a tumbling catch of pinch-hitter Gates Brown's foul in the Tiger dugout, retiring the side.

Willie himself tried and failed on an attempted diving catch of a fly to left that gave the Sox an opening in the early innings of the first game.

The Tigers' new star was prominent otherwise. Pitches by Wilson brushed both Kaline and Horton back from the plate in the fourth. After Willie's turn, he started toward the pitching mound and Wilson stepped toward him. Players and plate umpire Bill Kinnamon intervened, preserving peace.

New Manager, Former Batboy Snap KC String

By The Associated Press

If Haywood Sullivan can win a few more games, he might find himself riding around in a green and gold air-conditioned trailer with piped-in music for his listening pleasure.

The new manager of the Kansas City Athletics took a giant step toward taking over Charley the Mule's trailer as well as the animal's place in Charley Finley's heart by halting a seven-game losing streak Sunday with a doubleheader sweep over Minnesota 7-4 in 10 innings and 4-2.

Sullivan, a former catcher with Boston and Kansas City who had been managing at Vancouver, got the call from owner Finley during the weekend and replaced Mal McGaha. He became Finley's fifth manager in five years and the youngest in the majors at 34.

He went to work immediately and found a willing ally in Rene Lachemann, a former Dodger bat boy. Lachemann was sent up as a pinch hitter in the opener and produced the tying run with a ninth-inning single, then was inserted into the line-up in the nightcap and responded with two singles and a homer.

A couple of more moves like that and the Mule may get his eviction papers.

Meanwhile, the American League-leading Chicago White Sox swept a doubleheader from the Los Angeles Angels 6-2 and 5-4. Boston downed Detroit 5-0 and 4-3. Washington edged Cleveland 8-7 in 11 innings before the Indians won 7-3 and Baltimore defeated the New York Yankees 7-5 in the only

Mays Steals Home With Winning Run

By The Associated Press

Give Willie Mays five feet, and he'll take 90.

Mays, on another one of his early season streaks, scooted home on a not-too-wild pitch with the winning run in San Francisco's 4-3 victory over Houston in the second game of doubleheader Sunday.

Mays also starred in the opener, cracking his 13th home run as the Giants won 10-5.

The 34-year-old Giant whiz reached first base in the sixth inning of the nightcap when first-baseman Jim Beachamp dropped Joe Morgan's throw. He stole second, then moved to third on a ground out.

With Tom Haller at bat, Houston's Jim Owens uncorked a pitch that wound up five feet in front of the plate. Mays, spotting the ball 85 feet away, won the race home—and the game.

That dashing play climaxed a prolific day for Mays, who rapped five hits in seven at-bats, scored four runs and drove in two.

The performance pushed the center fielder's major league-leading average to .408 and continued to duplicate his streak early last year.

In other National League games, Milwaukee trimmed Philadelphia 8-6 in 10 innings, New York swept Cincinnati 6-2 and 8-5, St. Louis rolled over Pittsburgh 6-3 and 5-1 and Los Angeles edged Chicago 3-2 after losing 5-3 in 10 innings.

Mays doubled in one run and scored another in the fourth inning of the second game.

The Astros made it close on Jim Wynn's seventh-inning homer and Joe Morgan's two-run single in the eighth.

Juan Marichal brought his record to 6-3 in the opener behind homers by Willie McCovey, Mays, Jim Hart and Haller. Houston's Dave Giusti was battered for seven singles in 1 1/3 innings as he lost his first game after winning six.

Milwaukee rallied for three runs in the 10th inning, the first two on Gene Oliver's bases-loaded double, for its triumph over the Phillies. Bobby Wine helped the Braves by throwing high on Ed Mathews' leadoff grounder. It was Philadelphia's 42nd error in 29 games.

The Mets moved 4 1/2 games away from last-place Pittsburgh by defeating the Reds twice. Jack Fisher won his third straight game in the opener behind home runs by Johnny Lewis, Charlie Smith and Roy McMillan.

Smith and Ron Swoboda connected in the second game, helping Warren Spahn even his record at 3-3.

St. Louis' Bob Gibson became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering 10 hits for his seventh victory against no defeats. Gibson also homered in the ninth inning of the first game.

The Pirates dropped their 20th game in the last 24 in the second game as Ray Washburn and Bob Purkey combined for a six-hitter. The Cardinals put the game away with three runs in the eighth, Ken Boyer and Bill White each driving in one.

Billy Williams snapped a 1-1 tie with a run-scoring single in the 10th inning, and the Cubs scored three more times, offsetting Wes Parker's two-run double in the Dodgers' half of the inning. Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Dick Bertell singled in the other Cub runs in the 10th.

Parker won the nightcap for Los Angeles, driving in pitcher Don Drysdale with a ninth-inning single. Drysdale, who doubled with two out in the inning, had a three-hitter until the top of the ninth when Chicago tied it 2-2 on Don Landrum's single and Williams' bad-hop double.

Foyt Owns All Speedway Marks

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A. J. Foyt owns all the records for the 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway from the 150-mile point to the finish. And he'll be in an ideal spot May 31 to pick up the other marks.

Foyt, 30, four-time national driving champion from Houston, Tex., won the 500 last year for the second time and set records all the way after taking charge at 150 miles. But the marks for the qualifications and the early part of the race eluded him.

He took care of qualifications Saturday by roaring four times around the 2 1/2-mile track at an average of 161.233 miles per hour and hitting a hot lap at 161.958. He drove the No. 1 Sheraton-Thompson rear-engine Lotus-Ford.

As the fastest qualifier on the first trial day, Foyt will start the race in the pole position—inside spot in the front three-car row of the 33-car field.

Nineteen cars qualified Saturday, at speeds from Foyt's record to 153.407 by Norm Hall of Hollywood, Calif. Two more qualified Sunday, filling a tentative line-up of seven rows for the race.

Twelve places at the rear of the field remain to be filled next weekend. After 12 cars have qualified, a car still may make the field with a higher speed than one or more of the earlier qualifiers. The slowest car then will be eliminated.

Injuries Still Plague Racers

BALTIMORE (AP)—Injuries, which have plagued thoroughbred racing's 3-year-old division all year, struck again in the Preakness as Tom Rolfe won the $180,600 race Saturday with a neck decision over Dapper Dan.

Lucky Debonair, a fading seventh in the 1 1/2-mile race after winning the Kentucky Derby, and Native Charger, fourth in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, went on the hospital list for indefinite periods with leg injuries.

And even Tom Rolfe didn't escape unscathed as he survived a claim of foul while throwing back Dapper Dan's bid in the duel between two sons of the unbeaten Italian sire — Ribot.

Tom Rolfe, owned by Raymond Guest, the U.S. ambassador to Ireland, threw his left front shoe and returned to the winner's circle with his front heels run down and some hair brushed off the ankle.

Trainer Frank Whiteley said Sunday there was not much soreness in the heel. He will point Tom Rolfe for the 1 1/2-mile Belmont stakes June 5, in which he will again hook up with the stretch-running Dapper Dan from Ogden Phipps' stable. He will be kept in training at Delaware Park.

Lucky Debonair, never farther back than fourth as Flag Raiser led the field of nine through a swift six furlongs and a 1:37 mile, suffered bucked shins in his two front legs, with the worse soreness in the left one.

Trainer Frank Catrone said Lucky Debonair would be out of action for at least two months.

Native Charger, winner of the Flamingo and Florida Derby for 83-year-old Albert Warner, bowed a tendon in his right foreleg. Trainer Ray Metcalf was not available as the horse vanned to Garden State Park in New Jersey.

With Hail to All, third in the Preakness, scheduled to start in the $100,000-added Jersey Derby, the Belmont stakes could well develop into a two-horse race.

After Dapper Dan's stretch runs just missed in both the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, there are many who believe the longer distance of the Belmont will be down his alley.

Gene Sarazen believes that today's low scoring in golf is the result of poorly designed contours in the greens and the weakness in the par 5 holes.

Sue Maxwell Golf Winner

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—"Oh gosh, I thought I was choking up. I said 'Sue, don't blow it.'"

Sue Maxwell was recalling the mental battle she fought after two drives struck trees and threatened her lead in Sunday's final round of the Muskogee Civitan Open Golf Tournament.

But "then I birdied 14 and that was when I knew I had it," she continued.

It was the first victory for the 23-year-old Miss Maxwell, a professional for less than two years since she left Oklahoma's amateur ranks and joined the Ladies Professional Golf Association's national tour.

Her consistent play won her the golf LPGA Rookie of the Year award last year.

Playing before a partisan gallery, Miss Maxwell ended the 54-hole tournament with a five-stroke advantage over three golfers bunched at 218 — Mickey Wright, Kathy Cornelius and Judy Kimball. Her 213 equaled Miss Wright's total in winning the Civitan Open last year.

Governor Asks For Suggestions On Tax Reform

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has asked a cross-section of Michigan citizens to fill in the blanks on his fiscal reform "questionnaire."

At the end of a 2½-hour citizens meeting on fiscal reform Thursday, Romney asked the group of some 700 citizens to take his budget and revenue alternatives and "write me within the next month to tell me what you think."

"Those of you who represent groups should ascertain the viewpoint of your membership," he added.

Romney, in the meeting, used charts, graphs and his chief fiscal advisors, State Controller Glenn Allen, Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock, Auditor General Allison Green and Mark Littler, chairman of his task force on expenditure management.

Looks Into Future

Romney presented the group the following alternatives for Michigan's future:

— "A drastic slash in the level of state services to avoid higher taxes, deficits or deficit financing;

— "Deficits and another period of general state difficulty;

— "The high cost of deficit financing;

— "An increase in taxes to support an adequate level of state services and to safeguard our state's fiscal integrity."

In show-of-hands votes, the group supported fiscal reform in this legislative session. The group included representatives of state agencies, local officials, political leaders, businessmen, and labor, church, civic, farm, educational and veterans organizations.

They expressed nearly unanimous approval of an increase in taxes, pay-as-you-go financing for state building when

Diocese Backs Job Equality

CHICAGO (AP)—The Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit has decided to use its multimillion-dollar purchasing power to help curb discrimination in employment.

The joint announcement was made by the Archbishop's Committee on Human Relations of Detroit and the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice in Chicago.

Mathew Ahmann, conference executive director, said Detroit is the second archdiocese to commit itself to the full program of handling church funds to encourage equal job opportunity.

Another archdiocese began the program last week, he said, but he declined to identify it. He said it didn't want "national publicity."

The announcement said that all companies doing business with the Detroit Archdiocese will be required to "advise the archdiocese of their equal employment opportunity policy and practices."

"Future contract awards for goods and services will be based on the merit employment practices of the supplier as well as the usual requirements of price, quality and service," it said.

Archbishop John F. Dearden said he is notifying all pastors and administrators of institutions by letter of the policy.

"We recognize we have a moral obligation to ascertain that our Catholic institutions are hiring in a moral manner and to be sure that they are spending their funds in a moral manner."

The Archbishop's Committee on Human Relations will carry out the program, called Project Equality.

Prisoners Freed To Take Jobs

EDITOR'S NOTE: — "Home Leave" for prisoners in Iowa, a fish story from California, the budget of a lobbyist in Maryland and aquatic blessings in Oklahoma make up glimpses from the U.S. scene this week.

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Iowa is embarking upon a controversial program of releasing prisoners from county jails to work at their jobs or seek employment.

In the case of some women, they would be free to do their housekeeping chores at home. School-age youths would be permitted to attend classes.

Legislation setting up the program, which awaits the governor's signature, has been called the "babysitter bill."

Supporters of the measure said it would be a rehabilitation tool to help restore persons sentenced to jail to a useful place in society. Twenty-four states already have such programs, they said.

Under the Iowa system, county district courts would designate the prisoners to leave jail during working hours.

Sheriffs could collect the pay that prisoners received. The pay would be kept in a trust fund for the prisoners, but deductions could be made for the cost of meals furnished by the jail, expenses of travel to and from work or school, support of dependents and for outstanding debts.

BISHOP, Calif. (AP)—This is the time of year when a hardy few head into the High Sierra for a rare delight: outwitting a trout, gaudy denizen of Two-Mile-High Lakes, the golden trout.

They must allow at least a week for the pack trip to the 30-odd lakes northwest of Olancha, Calif., which are the home of the golden trout, native only to this state.

The golden is one of the smallest trout, averaging a half-pound and seldom more than 8 inches long.

Golden trout love cold water, thrive in elevations of 8,500 to 11,000 feet, and put up a whale of a fight against light tackle. Inaccessible by road, golden trout waters can be reached only on foot or by horseback. Motorbikes and aircraft are prohibited in the rugged wilderness.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—William R. Clay, lobbyist for veterans at the Maryland Legislature since 1948, reported personal expenditures of $825.50 this year, including cigars for members, a new pair of shoes and three visits to a foot doctor.

The Hyattsville attorney estimated he walked 500 miles around state house corridors. He said he received no pay or allowances and refused all contributions offered him. He is legislative chairman of the Maryland Department of the American Legion.

Old Auto Tags Received By Hare

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James Hare reports his office has received a batch of "collector" license plates donated in the memory of a former Upper Peninsula legislator. The plates were presented by Rep. Russell Hellman, D-Dollar Bay, in the memory of the late Harry Hermann, who represented the Copper Country district from 1939 to 1954. Hermann died last August at the age of 92.

The plates will be included in a display of vintage license plates being compiled by the office of the secretary of state.

THE ONE THAT ALMOST GOT AWAY

KINGMAN, Kan. (AP)—Jim Mills of Hutchinson, Kan., had to catch a five-pound catfish three times before he landed it. Mills, 78, grabbed the broken line with the fish on it and pulled it in. As he held it up for his wife to see the fish flipped off and back into the lake.

Mills jumped into the water, grabbed the fish with his bare hands and carried it well ashore—for keeps.

Coliseum Plaque In Los Angeles Honors Kennedy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A plaque honoring the late President John F. Kennedy will be unveiled Saturday, May 29, at the peristyle entrance of the Coliseum.

The Coliseum Commission authorized the plaque to mark the location where Kennedy accepted the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination. The late president would have been 48 on the day of the ceremony.

TAILLIGHTS IN COLOR

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Researchers at Ohio State University are experimenting with rear-end lighting systems which would give the drivers behind more information than the present spotlight-tailight arrangement on cars.

One system provides a green light when the accelerator is depressed, an amber when the driver is touching neither brake nor accelerator, and red when the driver is braking. Glenn F. Lindsay, research associate, says: "What we want to create is a system which acts as nearly as possible as would a rigid steel bar between the two cars."

Sandra Mackie Crowned Queen Of Delta County

Sandra Susan Mackie, an 18-year-old blue-eyed blonde from Gladstone, Saturday was crowned Miss Delta County for 1965 at the annual beauty pageant at William Bonifas Auditorium. She will represent Delta County in the Miss Michigan competition at Muskegon later this summer.

The Miss Michigan winner is automatically entered in the Miss America pageant each September at Atlantic City, N. J.

A senior and last fall's Homecoming Queen at Gladstone High School, Miss Mackie is the daughter of Mrs. Doris Mackie, 610 Delta Ave.

First runnerup in the Miss Delta County competition was Jalene Kaye Peterson, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peterson, 331 N. 16th St., Escanaba.

Kathleen Joan Marenger, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Marenger, Rte. 1, Gladstone, was named second runnerup and also was honored as Miss Congeniality.

Miss Marenger is also a senior at Gladstone High School, giving that class three of four honors in the Miss Delta County contest.

Miss Mackie was awarded a $150 scholarship plus a $100 grant to attend Bay de Noc Community College. She plans to enroll at the Community College next fall.

In addition to her scholarship awards, Miss Mackie will be outfitted with a new wardrobe before she leaves for the Miss Michigan pageant.

Miss Peterson, a student at Cardinal Stritch College, Milwaukee, received a $100 scholarship and Miss Marenger was given a $50 scholarship by the sponsoring Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A field of eight of Delta County's most beautiful girls competed in the pageant which was judged by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meyers and Francis Broulette, all of Iron Mountain.

The pageant was conducted on the Miss America format with girls competing in evening gown, swimsuit and talent divisions before being asked to respond to a final question.

Miss Mackie modeled clothes she had designed and sewn in the talent competition.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening was Wallace Cameron. Jack Foster was the organist.

Tentative Tax Allocation Set

County government will get more money and local school districts less from property tax revenues in 1965 if a tentative millage allocation schedule set Saturday by the Delta County Tax Allocation Board receives final approval.

The Board increased millage for county government from 7.15 to 7.2 mills. The county school rate was reduced from 7.3 to 7.2.

The Delta-Intermediate School District was given one mill and townships were allocated a half-mill.

Final allocation will be made at 7:30 p.m. May 27 in a meeting at the Delta County Building.

The tentative allocation Saturday was set in the face of firm opposition by County Treasurer Ann Villeneuve and Harold Gustafson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

Both Mrs. Villeneuve and Gustafson had sought additional millage for the county which has approved a budget for 1965 which would need 8.5 mills to balance.

The deciding vote in the battle, which shaped up between the county and the Escanaba Area School District, largest in the county, was cast by George W. Rusch.

Rusch had voted earlier with Mrs. Villeneuve and Gustafson on a motion by Gustafson to give the county 7.3 mills and the schools 7.1. That motion was defeated by a 3-3 vote.

The tentative allocation set came by a 4-2 vote when Rusch supported a compromise motion by Dr. Vernon Johnson, delegate representing the largest school district (Escanaba Area).

Hagle Quarnstrom, superintendent of the Delta-Intermediate School District, and John Tackman, also supported Johnson's motion, giving it a 4-2 majority.

Underwriters Program Set

The Central Upper Peninsula Underwriters Association will host the U.P. sales conference to be held at the House of Ludington here on Saturday, May 22.

Life and health underwriters from throughout the U.P. are expected to attend.

Featured speakers will be Raymond N. Sauvey, C.L.U., Green Bay; Bill Taylor, C.L.U., manager of field training for the North Central Office; Harold L. Banta, president-elect of the Michigan Life Underwriters.

Ben F. Hill, C.L.U. district group supervisor; Howard S. Hillman, Massachusetts Casualty Insurance Co.; Eugene C. Leslie, C.L.U. and member of the Wisconsin Bar Association.

Sauvey, a graduate of Notre Dame, will discuss prospecting; Taylor will speak on business insurance and the life underwriter; and Banta will be the featured speaker for the noon luncheon. He is a member of Gov. Romney's Safety Committee and a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University.

Group insurance will be discussed by Hill; Hillman will come from Columbus, Ohio, and will speak about the health insurance field; and Leslie will talk on private annuities and estate planning.

Chairman Burton Butler and John O'Brien, Escanaba, said they expect the sessions to be well attended.

Were a U.S. president to submit his resignation, he would have to notify the secretary of state.

SMOKE RISES from the Bien Hoa air base in South Viet Nam after a chain bomb blast which left at least 27 Americans dead and 103 wounded. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Saigon)

Cattle Saved By Farm Boy

Quick thought and action by the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaFave, Delta County farmers, saved 17 head of cattle in a fire that destroyed the LaFave barn Sunday morning.

Henry LaFave Jr., about 12, was home alone when fire broke out in the barn. He discovered the fire at 8:30 a.m. while his father was at work and his mother and the other children were at church. Henry senior is employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway.

Running to the barn, the boy opened the doors and dragged and chased 17 head of cattle outside before he was driven away by the heat and flames. "I just couldn't stand any more," he said.

Destroyed with the barn were 13 head of cattle that he could not get out, equipment including a tractor, baler, chopper and five tons of fertilizer. The loss was partly covered by insurance.

Firemen from Escanaba responded to the call. They said the cause of the blaze was undetermined.

single-engine Vietnamese spotter planes.

Air Strip Unusable

A helicopter and 24 Vietnamese Skyraiders were damaged. Eight B57s stationed at Bien Hoa were not damaged.

Moore said the loss of the aircraft "will have a negligible effect on military operations in the near future." Replacements "will be in Viet Nam in a matter of hours," he said.

He said the blasts left the base's main air strip unusable but planes were operating from other parts of the field.

For the fourth consecutive day, there were no U.S. air strikes Sunday against North Viet Nam. U.S. officials in Saigon again declined to comment on the reason. Reports have said the raids have been halted on orders from Washington.

The New York Times reported from Washington that the United States had temporarily suspended the air strikes as a sign of good faith to support President Johnson's offer to negotiate with the North Vietnamese.

Junior High's Musicians Win

Escanaba Area Public Schools' Junior High School Band and String Orchestra both won first division ratings from both judges at the Junior High School Music Festival on Saturday at Iron Mountain.

Judge Robert Bauer said of the Escanaba band: "Basic tone is fine — it can use maturity, particularly during solo passages." He gave it an "A" rating. Judge T. Ray Uhlinger wrote of band tone "Excellent in all respects" and of intonation "very outstanding." He gave it an "A" rating.

Of the 7th and 8th grade string orchestra Bauer said "sound!" and he gave it an "A" and Uhlinger said of the tone "very mature quality" and he gave it an "A."

All of the soloists and ensembles from Escanaba Junior High School were also rated highly. Playing piano solos were Frederick Jurmu, Steve Jurmu, Billy Van Effen, Jeannene Schmeling, Ruth Brown, Katherine Gilstrap, Janice Larson, Susan Fletcher, Ann Helmer, and Diane Brandt.

Solos: Clarinet, Diane Marrier; French horn, Katherine Gilstrap; violin, Mark Setterlund, Frederick Jurmu; cello, Karen Beck; soprano, Diane Coplan.

Ensembles: Flute quartet, clarinet choir, baritone duet and two string ensembles.

Competing at the festival were school groups from Iron Mountain, Alpha, Kingsford, Carney, Ontonagon, Gladstone, Houghton, Newberry and Escanaba.

Lower Excise Levies Would Start July 1

ries except those primarily for truck use.

Repeal of the documentary stamp taxes on stocks and bonds and deeds.

A cut in local and long-distance telephone taxes from 10 to 3 per cent, with teletypewriter service included, and with a further reduction of 1 per cent a year each Jan. 1 until the tax is wiped out entirely by 1969.

In keeping with his proposal to expand taxes on those who use roads, waterways and aviation facilities financed in part by the federal government, Johnson proposed that the present tax of 5 per cent on air passenger service be made permanent.

He also recommended that Congress approve a higher cost estimate for the interstate highway system, an estimate now up by $5.6 billion, and that it authorize the necessary appropriations to complete this system.

Increases Anticipated

The President said existing user taxes will provide nearly $2 billion of the extra costs, leaving about $3 billion to be raised by extending some user taxes beyond their present expiration date, by increasing some of these taxes, or both.

For one thing, he asked that the date for reducing taxes earmarked for the highway trust fund be extended from Sept. 30, 1972, to Feb. 28, 1973. For another, he proposed imposing more user taxes on heavy trucks, to bring in about $200 million annually until 1973.

This would be done by raising the tax on diesel fuel to 7 cents from 4 cents a gallon, increasing the weight tax to $5 from $3 a thousand pounds on trucks having a taxable gross weight above 26,000 pounds, and doubling the tax on tread rubber to 10 cents from 5 cents a pound.

The President said he will recommend that the size and weight limits on trucks playing the interstate system be raised as soon as just and appropriate user charges are enacted.

Industries Approve

On users of the inland waterways, Johnson recommended imposing a 2 cents a gallon tax on fuel. He noted that no user charge of any kind is in effect now on those who travel these waterways and the proposed tax would recover only a small amount of operating and maintenance costs of the waterways.

Johnson said these costs amount to more than $50 million a year, and another $200 million a year goes into new investments in the waterways.

Johnson's first disclosure Saturday on his plans to reduce the excises won immediate approval in labor and industry.

The auto and telephone cuts were hailed by management and labor leaders, although an auto manufacturers spokesman in Detroit said it was viewed with "mixed delight" because elimination of the auto tax had been the hope.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana immediately backed the plan.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, bedridden over the weekend because of a stomach upset, was not available for immediate comment. Previously he had indicated he would support such action.
